YOU NEED MEDICINE AT THIS TIME.

Everybody is more or less troubled at this season with loss of vitality, failure of appetite, that tired feeling, or with bilious turns, dull headaches, indigestion and other stomach troubles, or with pimples and other eruptions on the face and body. The reason is that the blood is impure and impoverished.

Hood's Sarsaparilla relieves all these ailments. Ask your druggist for this medicine and get it to-day. Nothing else acts like it. Get Hood's. (Adv.)

Burlingtonians were treated to many privileges of weather on Easter Sunday. Following a slight of showers, the sun shown brightly in the morning and there were large congregations at the several churches. There were the usual extensive floral displays, principally of palms, callas and Easter lilies, special music by augmented choirs and appropriate sermons by the ministers. During the morning the clouds gathered again and by the time some of services were at an end rain was falling. Later in the afternoon there were snow squalls and a bitter west wind, followed towards night by clearing skies and a drop in the temperature to a point several degrees below freezing.

In county court Friday the Tatro case was heard in the morning, and in the afternoon the court went into executive session for the consideration of cases already heard. In the case of George W. Tatro vs. estate of Christine Tatro, which is an appeal from probate for the allowance of an executor's account, the examination of the executor, Mr. Tatro, as to details of the account was resumed. At the end of the evidence the court asked of counsel what facts the court should find, since it is customary in court cases to have the findings written out on particular points. Attorney J. E. Cushman for the executor asked that the court find that the account was correct and Guy B. Horton for the beneficiary, Matilda Waters, specified certain items as to which he desired findings.

DASH FOR LIBERTY.

Stephen Martin made it but was soon caught. Some little excitement was caused yesterday afternoon when Stephen Martin, a prisoner, who was being taken from the Chittenden county court back to jail by Deputy Sheriff Todd, made a bold dash for liberty and succeeded in getting quite a distance from the place where he started. He was pursued and caught, however, by no less a person than Joseph Agel, who seems to make a specialty of catching escaped prisoners. Mr. Agel, although a much heavier man than Martin, proved to be the better sprinter and in only a few minutes after the escape he had Martin by the collar. The capture was not nearly so expensive as that of Slim Braxton.

Martin is getting quite a reputation as a dasher. He was taken into custody in March, 1913, when he was serving a sentence in county jail for intoxication and was given permission to work in the cotton mill. He took advantage of his temporary liberty by slipping out and remaining away for a long time, being finally recaptured in Wisconsin. He was then shipped to serve his original sentence, which expired in March, and then he was taken into custody again, where he pleaded guilty to jail breaking and was given a sentence of not less than two nor more than three years. He has been detained in jail, however, as a witness in the grand jury in the investigation of the killing of Henry Bushey of Wisconsin. Yesterday afternoon he was taken before the grand jury and was being taken back to jail in company with the Monro brothers, other witnesses, when he made his break for liberty. At the corner of Winslow avenue and Main street, in front of the Strong theatre, he suddenly parted company from Mr. Todd and darted down Winslow avenue, and then down King street. His act was witnessed by Joseph Agel, who was standing on the corner by the F. E. Perkins store. Agel started in pursuit and chased Martin down the streets mentioned. Martin then dodged across lots to Church street, down Church street to Adams street and then to St. Paul. Agel ran down Maple street and when Martin emerged on St. Paul street, Agel was waiting for him. The latter immediately collared the man and asked him what he ran away for. Martin said he got thinking of the two years he must serve and thought he would take a chance to escape. Deputy Todd soon arrived on the scene. Martin was taken back to jail in a hack.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK TRAIN. The New England States Limited, the Central Vermont's crack train, north-bound, had a narrow escape from a serious wreck last Friday evening, when an attempt was made to ditch the express by piling a number of ties on the track. The obstruction was placed at a point about a mile south of the station at Highgate Springs, and was fortunately noticed by the engineer, Thomas Coleman. He promptly applied the emergency brakes and had almost brought his train to a stop when the pilot of the engine struck the mass of timber. Beyond minor damages to the engine there was no harm done.

PIPE ORGAN OUTF. The Universalist Church of Brattleboro is to have a new pipe organ, the gift, as a memorial to William H. Estabrook and his wife, Adeline S. Estabrook, by their heirs. It is to be built by the Estey Organ company and placed in the church before the Universalist State convention in August. The present organ was installed about 30 years ago.

ROOSEVELT COMES TO VERMONT? Brattleboro progressives have announced that Colonel Roosevelt will come to Vermont and visit Brattleboro on a tour of the State in the interests of the progressive campaign. It is expected, the announcement has it, that Senator Clapp of Minnesota and George W. Perkins of New York city will attend a meeting of progressives to be held at Brattleboro within a week or two.

CLASS PARTS AWARDED. Announcement has been made of the commencement honors for the 1914 class at Goddard Seminary, Barre. The selections are made on the basis of scholarship and are as follows:

FORMER HEAD OF INSURANCE COMPANY FINED

Clifford C. Fletcher, Charged with Embezzlement, Found Guilty and Fined $300.

Rutland, April 15.—Clifford C. Fletcher of Harrisburg, Pa., the former president of the Vermont Accident Insurance company of this city, who was found guilty by jury in Rutland county court this morning of embezzlement of $1,353 from the insurance company in 1908, was fined $300 without costs, by Judge Willard W. Miles. He paid the fine, Fletcher drew the money from the Killington National bank of this city, where the company had a deposit and deposited it to his own credit at the Rutland County National bank. He put a worthless note in the company's cash drawer as an asset. In the indictment there were two other counts charging embezzlement of much smaller amounts but these were not submitted to the jury. State's Attorney B. L. Stafford prosecuted, assisted by George W. Platt of this city. The respondent's counsel were Joseph C. Jones of this city and J. W. Dono-way of Middlebury.

Mr. Jones stated this afternoon that the case would be taken to the Vermont Supreme Court. He claims that the verdict is merely a technical one, that the jury did not find Mr. Fletcher guilty of any criminal intent, but that as a stockholder in the company he should have had a majority of the stockholders, besides himself, to ratify a loan. There were five stockholders in all and Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher and R. A. Dean, who was bookkeeper, were the three who voted to cover the loan.

A second verdict was returned in county court today when a jury found that Carl Bucklin of East Wallingford, aged 35, was the father of a child born to Lena Blair, 17 years old, daughter of Louis Blair of East Wallingford, the plaintiff in the suit. Walter S. Panton of this city was counsel for the plaintiff and Joseph C. Jones represented the defendant. This afternoon the trial of the case of State vs. Michael Liddy of Pawlet, aged 25, a farm hand, charged with assault with intent to commit rape, was begun. His alleged victim is Frances Sheldon, daughter of George Sheldon of Pawlet, aged 11 years. C. V. Poulin of Rutland is Liddy's lawyer. Mr. Stafford is prosecuting.

VERMONT NOTES.

State V. M. C. A. Convention to Be Held at Woodstock in May.

The 41st State convention of the Young Men's Christian associations of Vermont will be held at Woodstock on May 12 and 13. The conventions have hitherto been held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, but the committee decided to try the experiment of holding a shorter convention, in the hope that more men might be able to attend for the shorter period of time. A supper is to be given on Tuesday evening, May 12, for delegates and the Woodstock men at the Woodstock Inn.

A strong and interesting program is being arranged, and the following are some of the speakers who will be present: M. A. Honline, Ph. D., of the religious work department of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A.; Fred B. Freeman, State county secretary of the New Hampshire Y. M. C. A.; Hon. W. J. Van Eaton, chairman of the State Y. M. C. A. committee; Hon. E. S. Brigham, State commissioner of agriculture; Willis N. Cady, master of the State Grange.

By action of the State committee, the convention is open not only to all members of the Young Men's Christian associations but to those from churches, Bible classes, Men's Brotherhoods, and those whose object is the building up of Christian manhood. Each city, county, industrial, railroad, or student organization should be represented by a good delegation of the strongest members. All corresponding members should be present, and all pastors are cordially invited to attend and will be given the privileges of the convention.

VERMONT BREVITIES. Miss Agnes Fountain has been engaged as city stenographer for Montpelier.

Conrad L. Miller of Guilford Center has lost six valuable cows within a short time, all having symptoms of poisoning. The stomach of a cow is now being analyzed at the State laboratory.

The Union Christian parish of Vershire has filed papers of incorporation for the purpose of maintaining and supporting religious work and worship in the town of Vershire, in harmony with the Advent Christian church of that place.

The Rev. Clifford Davis Newton was ordained to the ministry of the Universalist Church at Rochester Sunday evening. He was graduated from the Meadville Theological Seminary in 1912 and from St. Lawrence University in 1913. Since June 2, 1913, he has been acting pastor at Rochester.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

Catholic Club Held at Gymnasium—Banquet of Debating Association.

The Catholic club of the university held its first annual ball in the gymnasium Monday night, a large number attending. The hall was gaily decorated with purple and white streamers and numerous college banners, and several palms. In the evening line were Mayor and Mrs. James E. Burke, President and Mrs. Guy Potter Benton, Dean and Mrs. Henry C. Tinkham, Dr. and Mrs. P. E. McSweney, Captain and Mrs. Ira L. Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Corley, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Wright, and President J. J. Boland of the Catholic club. Thomas Luby, president of the Columbian club of McGill University, and several other representatives of that club were present. There were invited guests from a number of surrounding towns, and each fraternity in the university was invited to send a representative. Robinson's orchestra of eight pieces furnished music for a program of 24 dances. The dance orders were of brown leather, in the form of a bill fold for the gentlemen and a card case for the ladies. The committee in charge consisted of J. J. Boland, Adrian St. John, Joseph B. Carrigan, Michael Claffey, Charles Fleming, Hugh Hanrahan and Jerome Tonnien.

The debating association held its annual banquet at the Hotel Vermont Monday, and is being present. President H. Alton Bailey was toastmaster at the post-prandial exercises, which were held at the roof garden of the hotel. The speakers were Professors Clifford and Alken, who dwelt upon the value of debate; E. L. Clatter-ton, '12, and Jason S. Hunt, '15, who outlined the work of the debating teams and of the association this year, and Professor Tupper, who spoke of the life of Thomas Jefferson, it being the anniversary of his birth. At a later date the association will meet to elect officers for the coming year and to outline the work of next year.

The Cynic board Friday elected Lonnie W. Dean of Bristol editor-in-chief, Rodner W. Glendon of Woodstock managing editor, and William S. Smith of Middlebury business manager. These men are all juniors and will assume their duties on May 19, to serve for one year from that time.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR ELECT OFFICERS.

The annual convocation of Burlington Commandery, No. 2, K. T., was held last evening at the Masonic Temple. The reports of the secretary and treasurer showed a splendid growth, both in membership and finances. The annual election resulted as follows: Em. commander, J. E. Trull; gen. H. M. McIntosh; capt. general, E. E. Huntley; prelate, Rev. C. V. Grismer; warden, W. H. E. Patten; junior warden, H. H. Shuffelt; treasurer, P. L. North; recorder, Russell Hallett; standard bearer, Charles A. Davis; sword bearer, Osman Melendy; warder, Charles H. Harrington; sentinel, William H. Polson. Post Commander Charles H. Jones installed the officers, assisted by Post Commander W. E. Gilbert as grand marshal.

CHILD VERY ILL.

Inhaled Fumes of Disinfectant Used by Mistake for Floor Oil.

As the result of a mistake by which a can of disinfectant was used for floor oil the two months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morrison is in a critical condition at their home at 161 North street.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison had but recently moved to the house on North street and the owner had agreed to have the kitchen floor oiled. The man whom he hired to do the work mistook the fluid which is used for disinfecting purposes for a can of floor oil and went to the house and applied it to the floor Monday, Mrs. Morrison was nauseated by the fumes but as none of the other members of the family was ill nothing was thought to be wrong.

Tuesday evening the baby showed signs of sickness and Dr. C. N. Perkins was summoned. He found the pulse of the baby to be very weak. The disinfectant is very strong, one teaspoonful in a barrel of water being enough to go over an entire theatre. It acts on the young child as the poisonous vapor of the carbene being breathed into the lungs and overcoming the oxygen in the blood. The child was removed to a home of a neighbor yesterday, but although the complexion cleared slightly the baby was not out of danger last night.

PUTTING THEM AT EASE.

Precedence is not the only puzzle in official and social circles in any city, but to say the least it is a thing at the right time is equally necessary.

"To make mistakes in speech is suicidal," said a state department official recently. "Let it not be as in the case of Mrs. Brody, who gave a party, and when all the guests were in the parlor she entered with a beaming smile and said: 'Do be at home myself, and I wish you all were.'—Washington Star.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Henry G. Hammond.

Mrs. Henry G. Hammond of Clarke street died shortly before seven o'clock Friday evening at Mrs. Rood's sanitarium following an operation performed there Monday noon, March 30, for stomach trouble. While Mrs. Hammond had not been in good health the past winter she had been confined to her bed for only three weeks. The operation was in every way successful and prolonged her life for several days, but owing to her advanced age recovery was impossible.

Mrs. Hammond was born Phila Cushman, daughter of Fanny Wood and Royal Cushman, April 2, 1838, at Fairfax, having passed her 76th birthday one week ago Thursday. On October 11, 1865, she married Henry G. Hammond of Danbury, N. H., at Swanton. She had lived in this city for the past 20 years. Mrs. Hammond was a communicant at the First Church and was deeply interested in the work of all branches of the church societies and charities. At the time of her death she was vice-president of the local Woman's Christian Temperance Union. A large circle of friends will mourn the loss of her lovable and sympathetic religious character.

Mrs. Hammond is survived by two daughters, Miss Alice C. Hammond, who has always lived with and cared for her mother, and Mrs. Wellington B. Witters of St. Albans. Mr. Hammond died April 29, 1909. The funeral was held at the First Church funeral home at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, the Rev. E. G. Guthrie officiating, with interment in the family lot at Lake View cemetery.

Mrs. Sarah Lovina Kinsley.

Mrs. Sarah Lovina (Smith) Kinsley, one of the oldest residents of this city, died yesterday morning at 7:30 o'clock at the home of her son, George H. Kinsley, at 21 St. Paul street after a three months' illness. She was 84 years of age on January 22.

Mrs. Kinsley was born at Madrid, N. Y. Her husband was James Albert Kinsley. She had been a widow for about 61 years and lived for many years in Starksboro, Bristol and other towns in the State. She had resided in this city with her son for 18 years. Another son, Charles, died eight years ago.

She was a very remarkable old lady, erect of figure, in aspect unusually young looking for one of her years. She was very active up to her last illness and retained her faculties to an exceptional degree.

The funeral services are to be held Friday afternoon at two o'clock at the house, and the burial will be in Lake View cemetery.

Mrs. Joseph Allen.

Mrs. Joseph Allen died Monday afternoon at the Panny Allen hospital at three o'clock, aged about 40 years. She had been in ill health for two years and was operated upon a week ago Tuesday for gall stones.

She was born in Syria, and had lived in Burlington for 18 years. She is survived by her husband, three daughters, Sister Beatrice of the Panny Allen hospital, who has been her mother's devoted nurse, and the Misses Mary and Martha, who live at home, and by one brother and three sisters, living in Syria.

The funeral was held yesterday morning at St. Mary's Cathedral, with burial in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Mrs. Edward C. Ramsey.

Mrs. Edward C. Ramsey died Friday morning about ten o'clock at her home at 12 Allen street after a long illness. She had been confined to her bed for eight weeks. Her maiden name was Jennie McMahon and she was born at Liverpool in 1856, coming to this city 23 years ago. Her marriage to Mr. Ramsey took place 29 years ago. Besides her husband she is survived by five children, Arthur, Howard, Helen, Ethel and Lilian, all of this city; her mother, who lives at Liverpool; and a sister, Mrs.

Edmund T. Huntington.

Edmund T. Huntington died Tuesday morning at his home at 62 South Champlain street after a lingering illness. Mr. Huntington was 72 years of age. He is survived by his wife and son, Frederick T. Huntington of Newark, N. J.

The funeral, which was private, was held yesterday afternoon at four o'clock at the house. The remains will be taken this morning to Randolph and interred in the family lot.

ANOTHER CHURCH BEGUN.

Free Methodists to Have House of Worship on Elmwood Avenue.

Architect Frank L. Austin has opened the bids for the construction of the new Free Methodist Church on Elmwood avenue, the number of bids being six. The lowest bidder was John L. Bergeron & Sons, and they were awarded the contract. Work on the church will be begun at once, the stakes for the site having been set yesterday. It will require about three months to complete the structure. The building, which will be of wood, will be something after the type of the W. C. T. U. Temple and the dimensions will be about 30x70 feet.

There will be an auditorium capable of seating 200 people, besides Sunday school rooms. The structure will cost about $4,000. The site is the lot next south of the Elmwood Avenue cemetery, the house which formerly occupied the spot having been moved to the rear. It will be occupied as a parsonage.

ORDER IS MODIFIED.

Next Move in Union Station Matter Will Be a City Meeting.

The order of the supreme court modifying the order of the public service commission, providing for an elaborate system of overhead track construction, station, etc., as a solution of the Burlington union station problem, was received in the city Monday morning by Cowles & Stearns, who were attorneys for the petitioners in the petition of C. S. Isham and others associated with the counsel for the petitioners in the petition of the mayor and aldermen of the city of Burlington. Both petitions were addressed to the public service commission, and were against the Central Vermont and Rutland railroads.

The modification of the order is in accordance with the stipulation agreed upon by all parties. It is signed by Justices George M. Powers, Loveland Munson, John H. Watson and William H. Taylor. Justice Seneca Haselton being a resident of this city, has not taken part in the deliberations of the court on this subject.

The order of the supreme court is one of the last acts in the rather long history of negotiations to obtain a union station for the purpose of obtaining the consent of the taxpayers to the city's leasing bonds of notes for the payment of the $15,000 to the railroads, that being one of the
